

PALMETTO PANEL

CONFERENCE 2016

This unique citizen-led conference is designed to offer information you will not get any where else. By providing subject matter experts, networking and training opportunities, this conference empowers citizens to take constructive action on issues critical to the Palmetto State. Our venue, Clemson University's premier conference center, located on the shores of beautiful Lake Hartwell, provides the perfect setting to bring this all together. Please consider staying for a second day to attend citizen training through The Center for Self Governance. www.CenterForSelfGovernance.com
