

It's beginning to feel like we live in Hazzard County. "Boss Hogg" couldn't get away with as much as certain school and county leaders have lately.

Between an embezzlement scandal and an attorney switcheroo, it seems county and school actions are as clear as a murky swamp after a storm.

Folks in Berkeley County have been requesting information on new legal fees being paid to county and school board members' firms, asking questions like:

- Is there a Conflict of Interest Policy in our county?
- How are recovered funds from the embezzlement getting back to the county?
- Why did the School District hire an attorney who works for a County Councilman?
- Why does the Smyth Whitley Law Firm want $46,000 to respond to a Freedom of Information request?

Bless their hearts! That's a lot of money to print emails and invoices. That... or they're being handed a TON of work to do. We don't know, because they won't tell us.

Enough is enough.

IT'S EITHER TIME FOR TRANSPARENCY OR TIME TO DRAIN THIS SWAMP.
