What the heck...that is disturbing. And the recording! I hope there are consequences for that. I'm sure he had nothing better to do with his time. What a jerk.

I had a student taking photos of all of my LGBTQ books in the 300s today. After some uncomfortable conversation he finally said it was because he and his dad had been talking about the horrible books that were available for students in libraries now. My admin pulled him in and have tried to call the parent. Probably not the last I'll hear of it. He was also secretly recording another teacher who wandered in when this was happening and backed me up. --
