Child Abuse Under Investigation in Spartanburg

SPARTANBURG COUNTY, S.C. — On September 26, 2026, just after 2:30pm, deputies with the Spartanburg County Sheriff's Office responded to a residence in the 1400 block of Bud Arthur Bridge Rd in reference to checking the welfare of the children.

Upon arrival, two juvenile children were located unattended and had suffered injuries that had appeared to have been caused by a knife. Both children were transported to Spartanburg Regional Medical Center to be treated and further evaluated. Preliminary investigation has led to a parent being detained for questioning but at this time no charges have been filed.

Currently investigators are working through the information available and working to determine all the facts of what occurred in this incident. It is still very early in the investigation and further information is not available at this time. An update will be provided when more information is available.
